DETAILED ACTION

Amendment

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the Amendment filed March 30, 2006.

Remarks

2. Claims 1, 2-7, and 9-12 are currently pending. Independent claims 1, 4-7, and 9-12 have been amended and claims 2 and 8 have been cancelled. In the previous Office action, claims 2, 4-6, and 8-12 were objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but were indicated to be allowable if rewritten in independent form, including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. Currently amended claims 1, 4-7, and 9-12 include the allowable subject matter indicated in claims 2, 4-6, and 8-12.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1, 2-7, and 9-12 are allowable over prior art.

The following is an examiner's for allowance: Narusawa et al in view of Kopchik teach a smart card being used to control the throughput rate of a document. The above identified prior art of record, taken alone, or in combination with any other prior art, fails to teach or fairly suggest the specific features of claims 1, 2-7, and 9-12 of the present claimed invention. Specifically prior art fails to teach the data being stored on the smart card including a count of quantity of documents to be transported by the document transport at the throughput rate stored on the smart card and the data also including a serial number corresponding to a serial number of the document transport. Prior art further fails to teach the controller including a counter for counting the number of documents transported by the document transport at the throughput rate stored on the smart card and for deducting the counted number of documents from the count of the number of documents stored on the smart card using the card reader. Lastly, prior art fails to teach the smart card including a display for displaying the throughput rate and the remaining count of documents stored on the smart card. Moreover, one of ordinary skill in the art would not have been motivated to come to the claimed invention.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
